DETAILED ACTION

Status

1. Claims 1-20, present in the preliminary amendment filed 19 September 2005, are pending.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-6 and 12-20, drawn to a method of making an aluminum alloy sheet material.

Group II, claims 7-11, drawn to an aluminum alloy sheet product.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

3. Unity exists only when there is a technical relationship among the claimed inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding claimed technical features. The express "special technical features" is defined as meaning those technical features that define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art."(Rule 13.2). The question of unity of invention has been reconsidered retroactively by the examiner in view of the international search report for the parent PCT case: PCT/NO2004/000074; a review of D1: US 3,827,917 makes clear that the claimed aluminum alloy sheet of claim 7 is not novel over the prior art. Furthermore, this reference appears to demonstrate (col. 2, line 13 – col. 3, line 45) that the technical feature, primary particles having an average size below 1 micrometer<sup>2</sup>, does not define a contribution which each of the inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art. Thus, lack of unity becomes apparent “a posteriori” after taking the prior art into consideration. Accordingly, the prior art of the record supports restriction of the claimed subject matter in to the groups as mentioned immediately above.

Telephonic Election

4. A telephone call was made to Michael R. Davis on 4 February 2008 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Conclusion
